

Two new Clas Ohlson stores now open

This morning, Clas Ohlson opened new stores in Värnamo, Sweden, and Tampere, Finland, strengthening its presence in both markets.

The first store to open today was the new Clas Ohlson location in Lielähti, just west of central Tampere. Many customers had gathered outside the store, which is located in a retail park and has a sales area of 1,065 square metres.

"We're delighted to open another store in Finland. This will be our third store in and around Tampere, further strengthening our presence in the region," says Andreas Helgesson, Country Operations Manager.

Thursday morning also marked the opening of Clas Ohlson's new store in Värnamo. Located in the Flanaden shopping centre in the town centre, the store has a sales area of 902 square metres.

"We know many customers in Värnamo have been waiting for us. This store makes us more accessible in the region," says Andreas Helgesson.

Clas Ohlson has now opened six stores during the 2025/2026 financial year, and before the financial year ends on 30 April, a further two stores are set to open. In total, Clas Ohlson now operates 247 stores.
